Opening and closing guide

The left column opens the guide for new staff. It explains how the morning shift begins, who unlocks the doors, and where the cash float is counted before the first customer arrives. Every step has an owner.

The right column covers closing time. It lists the cleaning tasks, the order of the checks, and how the day's takings are sealed and signed by two people before the safe is locked.

A second page repeats the contacts: the manager on duty, the supplier hotline and the maintenance desk, each with an extension number that is printed on the back of the staff card.
